Papers of the St Julian's Community, Coolham (West Sussex), including collections for the life of the founder, Florence Allshorn (1885-1950)

3 boxes, 1921-2013

Presented by Miss Alison Day on behalf of the Community after it closed, about Easter 2005 (Acc. 20/22), with supplementary papers (JUL 1/37, JUL 1/14A, JUL 1/36 (1 item) and 38) late September 2011, 27 January 2015 and 14 March 2019 (Acc.2011/08, Acc.2015/01 and Acc.2019/04 respectively)

With three associated items: JUL 3/19 purchased from Abe Books September 2014 (Acc.2014/11), JUL 5/10 presented by John M. Lines 13 March 2014 (Acc.2014/05) and JUL 1/39 downloaded from internet 18 March 2019 (Acc.2019/05)

Catalogued by Sue Sutton, Archivist, October 2006.
Revised, including additional item descriptions and reformatting, by Philip Saunders, CCCW Archivist, October 2018, March 2019

The community was founded in 1942 by Florence Allshorn (1887¹-1950) who between 1920 and 1924 had been a Church Missionary Society (C.M.S.) missionary in Uganda but who had been forced to return to England through ill health. After spending time in a sanatorium in Switzerland and in the utopian Storrington Sanctuary, she accepted an invitation in 1928 to become warden of St. Andrew's Hostel, Clissold Park, London, one of two training colleges for women missionaries run by C.M.S., subsequently amalgamated with the other at Kennaway Hall and afterwards at Foxbury, Chislehurst. She was briefly evacuated to Selly Oak, Birmingham, 1939-40, then back for term at Foxbury before evacuation again to Ridley Hall Cambridge. On her resignation in 1940, she determined to found a community where returning missionaries could find a 'place of quiet' to have a place to adjust, to contemplate and to consider. The community, initially of four, soon outgrew its first house (Oakenrough, Haslemere, Surrey) and in 1943 premises at Barns Green in Sussex were purchased, the community was registered as a charity and a small body of trustees was formed. Among the earliest supporters were J.H. Oldham and Max Warren, the former of whom would become her biographer (JUL 1/1) and the latter chairman of the St Julian's

¹ According to Oldham's biography (JUL 1/1). But John Lines' Allshorn family history (JUL 5/10), presumably based on some record, says she was born in 1885 and an obituary (JUL 5/8) says 1889.

Trust for 20 years. In this house there was room for a resident community of eight, with 25 guests. Nearby was White Turrets where the children of missionaries could be looked after whilst their parents (often wives of missionaries on furlough) could get much-needed rest

In 1949 new premises were acquired at nearby Coolham by purchase of part of the Old House Estate, the community moving in on 25 January 1950. Sadly Florence Allshorn died in July of that year but the continuity of her vision was assured with the purchase of the Old House at Coolham. The house became a haven of rest not only for missionaries but also for others, of different denominations and nationalities. At the heart of Florence Allshorn's vision for St. Julian's lay her conviction that it was vital for missionaries to confront their own difficulties in relationships if the Christian witness was to be authentic. In 1956 it sent Dorothy Alton (d.1964), Mary Phillipson, Dinah Hart and Janet Clarke to open a sister community in East Africa. This was partly in response to requests from missionaries and others in the region who had known and appreciated the English house. Suitable premises were found at Limuru, 17 miles from Nairobi, where the establishment encountered fierce opposition from the white residents of the area against the multi-racial nature of the enterprise, regarding it as an African invasion of the White Highlands. The community were ridiculed as a naïve group of do-gooders and even as supporters of the Mau Mau. St. Julian's nevertheless gained the support of both Alan Lennox-Boyd, the Colonial Secretary in London and Sir Evelyn Baring, the Governor of Kenya and in 1957 the property was purchased. The house at Limuru fulfilled the vision of its founders: it became a place for all nations and races to meet. Often visitors would arrive from Nairobi just for the day but others would come from 'up country' seeking rest, relaxation and convalescence in more 'civilised' conditions.

By 1968 both of the community's houses were flourishing. Most of the 16 members in England had worked abroad and the guests included missionaries who went there as part of their training. There was a regular interchange between the two houses with a core group of three or four members staying at Limuru at any given time. By the late 1970s however fewer indigenous missionaries were visiting the Limuru and it had transformed into a place of retreats and conferences by white ex-patriates. This was regarded by the trustees as contrary to the original intentions of the project and in 1979 the decision was taken to close it. The property was sold to the Church of the Province of Kenya and a significant proportion of the proceeds distributed to Kenyan charities.

In 1986 Alison Day wrote a description of life in Coolham summarising the aims and aspirations of the community: 'At the very heart of our life together there still lies the commitment to learn more of the meaning and true cost of attempting to live in obedience to the two great Commandments (to love God with all one's heart, mind, soul and strength and to love your neighbour as yourself). It was this vision which drew each of us to St. Julian's initially and which holds us to it'. She commented that those of any religion, or none, were welcomed as guests, and that they came mostly to be quiet, to read and to reflect whilst others especially valued the chance to talk and share with members of the community.

However, in the 1990s numbers declined and it was no longer viable to run such a large house and estate. The community was wound up at the end of June 2000 and the house taken over by the local Roman Catholic Diocese as 'St Cuthman's Retreat Centre' (which itself closed in 2018). Alison Day, one of the last residents, collected together the papers of the community and stored them in the attic of her house at Midhurst. Through the intermediacy of Bishop Simon Phipps (whose wife had been a trustee) and Canon John Nurser they were offered to the Henry Martyn Centre, though they were not collected until Easter 2005. Records of the trust and of the domestic operation of the house and estate were subsequently deposited in the West Sussex Record Office, Chichester.

JUL 1/38 Records of the St Julian's Community

[ironically these core records of the community were presented last, in 2019 (Acc.2019/04 – see also JUL 1/36)]

JUL 1/38/1 Log book of the Community mid-1948 – June 2000 (closure)

According to Alison Day, begun by Margaret Potts, an Oxford history graduate, with pages headed for retrospective entries from 1941 but never entered. The first entry is indeed for Potts' admission and absence of entries while she was in America in 1958 is striking. But entries look as if frequently retrospective. Pages for 1998 onward said to have contained personal notes inappropriate for public access and were removed prior to deposit and entries for this period to the end which were extracted from these pages entered by the donor.

JUL 1/38/2 List of members of the Community compiled by Joyce Smith with dates of departure and/or death (?incomplete before 1980s) [?2000]

JUL 1/39 Digital material relating to the Roman Catholic St Cuthman's Retreat Centre, occupying former St Julian's Community House, downloaded from the Internet 18 March 2019 (Acc.2019/05) saved on shared server within CCCW, from which papers copies made for user consultation:

JUL 1/39/1 Extracts of official notice by Diocese of Arundel and Brighton of closure of St Cuthman's Retreat Centre with articles from The Independent Catholic News and The Tablet about closure. [2018]

JUL 1/39/2 Sale particulars of St Cuthman's Retreat Centre by Knight Frank LLP. Includes ground plans of premises, interior and aerial views, site and lot plans. Printed reduced and greyscale but coloured pdf version available on request. Knight Frank's code implies January 2018 but this must be dating error as decision to close only made months' earlier. JUL 2/3A 'Shoreham to Nairobi. Nov 1st 1954. Dorothy's Log'

A-B. Journal of Dorothy Alton, 1 November to 14 December 1954. A flight in a small plane (Auster Aiglet) piloted by Betty [Rowell] and navigated by Dorothy Alton, via France (Chartres, Perpignan), Spain, Morocco (Rabat), Nigeria, Sierra Leone (Freetown), Liberia (Monrovia), Belgian Congo (Leopoldville, Elizabethville), Rhodesia (Bulawayo, Salisbury). Typescript copy, presumably of a handwritten original, in five instalments (10+[10]+7+14+3pp.) with detached binder, typed both sides, and another on loose sheets, somewhat edited, single-sided (1+41pp.). Bound, with slight alterations at the beginning and end of the text.

This flight, referred to in JUL 2/1, p.2 as a 'hair-raising journey', was the subject of a publication by the pilot, Betty Rowell (later Beatty), entitled Just for the love of flying (1997). She was a South African and was an experienced pilot who had done wartime service and is included in South African Women in Aviation and Aerospace Industry. Aviatrix Profiles\(2012\). According to this Dorothy Alton was a recently-qualified private pilot and missionary. Betty Rowell had purchased the plane and the destination was Ndola, Zambia, where the plane was sold.

JUL 2/3B

A further copy of the same on loose sheets, somewhat edited, single-sided (1 + 41pp.), without cover

JUL 2/3 C Two monochrome photographs of Dorothy Alton c.1950s

JUL 3 Writings of Florence Allshorn

JUL 3/1 A foolscap hardback notebook with later label, '1932-1936. Nigeria – Florence's notes – back page'

Inscribed on reverse of front cover 'Dinah Hart', containing the following:

Journal of outgoing journey on M.V. Accra (?) from U.K. 21 Sept.1932 – 18 February 1933, anchoring 26 Sept in Madeira, 1-6 Oct in Freetown, Sierra Leone, accompanied inter alia by Mr Fraser, Mrs Drake, Miss Brown. Subsequently in Nigeria (Ibadan, Kudeti). Mainly personal reflections, presumably by Dinah Hart, with some local description.

Dated reflections [by Dinah Hart; cf JUL 1/34] 1933 -1936, September 1939 (re war; evidently still in Nigeria)

At back: further reflections in quotes in same hand and on reverse of back cover and previous page aphorisms and a poem in a different hand, apparently Florence Allshorn's and therefore the notes referred to in label (cf JUL 3/3)

JUL 3/2 The Notebooks of Florence Allshorn. Selected and arranged by a member of St. Julian's Community (SCM Press, London, 1957)

Ownership inscription of Dinah Hart inside

JUL 3/3 A notebook of poems and aphorisms, some written or typed by others and pasted in. Includes extracts from Ruskin, Swinburne, C.E. Raven, Life and Letters of Janet Erskine Stuart; also prayers

At front Florence Allshorn's bookplate

c.1920s-1930s

JUL 3/ 4 Letters from Florence Allshorn, mainly to Bishop Herbert Gresford Jones (addressed 'My dear Bishop') and Lily, his wife (presumably presented to the Community by the addressees; item JUL 3/4/. is annotated 'An old letter from Florence A – for you to share'):

JUL 3/4/1-15	To Bishop H. Gresford Jones (Suffragan Bishop of Kampala 1920-23), from C.M.S. school at Iganga, Busoga, Uganda. On school matters, health etc of Revd Rogers and family (who appears to have run dispensary)	1920-21 & n.d.

JUL 3/4/25	Florence Allshorn, Jinja, to 'Mrs Hodgkin', staying with Bishop and Mrs Gresford Jones', referring to Mrs Jones and to fines she has imposed at school for dropping clothes on the ground. [presumably separately presented to the Community]	October 1921

JUL 3/5A Circular letter of Florence Allshorn to Friends of St Julians reporting on first eight months of the Community [at Oakenrough, Haslemere, Surrey] January 1942

JUL 3/5B Photocopy of circular letter of Florence Allshorn to Friends of St Julians, including reference to sending off a distressed Anton Bruckner back to Germany
Easter Saturday 1948
[The original presumably retained by donor in view of iconic character of the reference]

JUL 3/6 Carbon copy of letter of Florence Allshorn (perhaps typed so each member of the community could have a copy) annotated 'M.I.P.', from Uganda, of November 16 1948 referring to angry and resentful group of missionaries and 'too many odd women'.

JUL 3/7 'Corporate Life on a Mission Station' reprinted from the International Review of Missions, October 1934 (very worn copy)

JUL 3/8 'Community Journal'. Addressed to people in the mission field'to keep some sort of touch with you'

JUL 3/8A Reflections on early days of the community and different roles.
Originally catalogued as part of JUL 3/8 but probably always separate (different carbon and margins)

JUL 3/9A ‘The Need for Community in the World of To-day’

JUL 3/9B ‘The Need for Community (voiced by a group of younger Christians (after ‘missionaries’ deleted)). Edited version of JUL 3/9A

JUL 3/10 ‘The New Kind of Training College’. Duplicated appeal for support [c.1943]

JUL 3/18A Some of Florence Allshorn’s Poems (duplicated).

Collected from various sources, February 1987, mainly her notebooks but also a tape recording but not all definitely by her

JUL 3/18B

Several hand-written poems

- | | | |
|--------------------|--|----------------|
| JUL 3/18B/1 | ‘Death’ | ?c.1920s-1930s |
| JUL 3/18B/2 | A letter addressed from Oakenrough, Haslemere to ‘Darling’, to go in with one from Lily [?Gresford Jones] containing a poem ‘TheWood’ (not published in JUL 3/18A) | [1941-43] |
| JUL 3/18B/3 | Page of a notebook with verse draft, ‘They told me there were doors...’ | c.1940s |
| JUL 3/18B/4 | Copies by Allshorn of poems by Katherine Mansfield (2 pages all except ‘Sea’ published on Katherine Mansfield society website) | c.1930s-40s |

JUL 3/19 Some Kenya Birds by Cynthia Harvey (London: Sheldon Press, 1938), Little Books for Africa Series no. 61;

[Acc 2014/11 a later non-archive addition not in printed version of original catalogue.

Acquired because Allshorn wrote the first book in the series, King Khama of Bechaunaland (1927). The extent of her involvement with the series as a whole remains to be investigated, but it is known that Sheldon Press was an imprint of SPCK]

JUL 4 St. Julian's Bible Notes

These notes on the New Testament were duplicated and sent out in the 1940s-1950s to subscribers who were predominately missionaries serving overseas. Judging by date of the first they appear to have been a core function of the Community in Florence Allshorn's vision. 'These notes will be sent to you every eight weeks. Each one should be used for a week. The purpose of them is that we should try to become more dedicated followers of Jesus Christ' (JUL 4/12). The items that are presumably the earlier ones, JUL 4/1-9, have no title and begin abruptly with 'Notes', plus a series number in the case of JUL 4/7-9. JUL 4/10-16 all have serial numbers and have the additional title St Julian's Bible Notes and are presumed to be later. JUL 4/1-14 have been placed into coloured card covers, probably by the depositor.

Except the first they are duplicated on small sheets, settling down after JUL 4/4 at 5 x 8 ins.

JUL 4/1	For St Mark's Gospel ch.2-3: 2 quarto sheets, for 'period 4', 30 Nov – 6 Dec. and for Wed. 30 Dec – Wed. 6 Jan Typescript	[1942]
