Miscellaneous published material for the Anglican Church in Nigeria collected by E.P.T. (Patrick) Crampton

40 items, 1958-1999

NIG 1-2 presented by the Mr Crampton from about 2001 or early 2002, the remainder probably later and placed in Library collections, whence transferred to Archives in March 2014 (Acc.20/5-6)

NIG 1-2 catalogued by Sue Sutton January 2002. Revised, introduction added and NIG 3-8 catalogued by Philip Saunders April 2017, incorporating detailed list of NIG 3 by Isobel Fox of 2014

Patrick Crampton was a student of St Catharine's College Cambridge, where he read geography 1949-52 and took a post-graduate Certificate of Education in 1952-3. He went out to Nigeria in 1953 where he was a teacher or worked for the government Education Ministry at a number of places in the northern region, becoming Principal of the Government Secondary School Katsina in the 1970s and later of Barewa College, Zaria ('the oldest, largest and most prestigious school of the northern states if not all Nigeria') before moving to Kaduna. He is author of Christianity in Northern Nigeria (1975, 3rd edition 1978: CCCW Library 276 CRA/1), a scholarly account that was the product of his Trinity College Dublin B.D. taken in 1969, reviewed appreciatively by his fellow St Catharine's alumnus Bishop Patterson, the former Archbishop of West Africa, in the St Catharine's Society Magazine of January 1976, pp.25-6— see http://www.society.caths.cam.ac.uk/Public_Magazines/1976r.pdf He retired to Cambridge and was a user of the Henry Martyn Library, serving on the Library Committee (as Secretary 1994-8) until the end of 2006. He died in 2011 [see St Catherine's Magazine 2011, 2012].
