

INTRODUCING OUR SUMMER INSTITUTE

World Christianity and Global Challenges

CCCW runs an annual residential Summer Institute on 'World Christianity and Global Challenges' in Cambridge.

It is a wonderful opportunity for Christians to gather together to learn about Christianity in other parts of the world. It is also an opportunity to build relationships as global Christians.

Each year the Institute will deal with a challenge focusing on the following questions:

Impacts: How does the challenge affect Christians locally and globally? How does it impact societies?

Responses: The various ways in which Christians and Christian communities respond to it; the strengths and shortcomings of the responses.

Actions: What insights can Christians from different parts of the world learn from each other? How can these shape Christian mission, ministry and education in each one's local context? In what ways can Christians as a global community, with our neighbours from other faiths and traditions, work together to create better societies?

Poverty and the Church

POVERTY AND THE CHURCH

Poverty is not God's plan, the church is. Thousands of people around the globe needlessly suffer and die every day because of poverty. This is not God's plan for the world.

In partnership with Tearfund, our Summer Institute 2024 will study and reflect on the church's calling to make a difference and work to end extreme poverty and injustice by reaching out to people and communities in need.

We welcome theological students, educators, researchers and any Christian interested in learning about Christianity in other parts of the world.

We focus on what it will take to envision, empower and equip churches to support and be part of bringing transformation to people living in poverty.

We explore how the church can influence and change social, political, and economic systems and policies so that the poorest communities can acquire the services and opportunities they need to thrive and fulfil their God-given potential.

We listen attentively to God and to each other while we consider working together to create better societies built on care, compassion and justice.

We worship and eat together daily, have opportunities to see the Centre's renowned library and archives, and have time to discover the joys of Cambridge.
